

Recruitment 2019 Candidate FAQ

I am not registered for the February exam but will be registered for the June exam, can I still apply?

No, successful candidates are required to be AEMCA certified prior to April 2019.

Are there any other dates that I can bring in my recruitment documentation package? Can I submit it via e-mail?

No, we require all candidates who wish to be considered for recruitment to hand deliver their documentation to headquarters during the dates/times listed.

What are the "supplementary course certificates"?

Supplementary course certificates are any qualifications you may have in addition to your PCP diploma (i.e. ITLS, R2MR, university degree). These are not mandatory certificates but are any certifications you wish to submit with your application. Please use the form provided to record them, we do not require copies of them at this stage.

How do I know that you received my application form?

At the end of the SurveyMonkey submission, you will see a confirmation page.

After I submit my resume/SurveyMonkey application, will you notify me if I need to bring in my documentation or should I bring it in after I apply?

All candidates who wish to be considered are required to apply using the link provided AND submit hard copies of their documentation. Please hand-deliver your documentation to headquarters during the dates/times listed. After the final documentation submission date, we will notify those candidates who are invited to our first stage of recruitment.

Will you notify me whether or not I am invited to subsequent stages of recruitment?

No, we thank everyone for their application and participation in recruitment, however only those candidates who are invited to subsequent stages will be contacted. All communication will be sent via e-mail.

I have immunization records from my college/employer; can I submit these instead of the immunization form in the package?

No, we require the immunization form found in our recruitment documentation package.

What is involved of each of the recruitment sessions?

Candidates will be evaluated on a number of areas in each session including written, practical, lifting and driving stations. Candidates who are invited to the recruitment sessions will receive a list of items/equipment to bring with them.
